STERLING LIVES A GIRL

Who Suffered As Many Girls Do—Tells How She Found Relief.

Sterling, Conn.—"I am a girl of 22 years and I used to faint away every month and was very weak. I was also bothered a lot with female weakness. I read your little book 'Wisdom for Women' and I saw how others had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and decided to try it, and it has made me feel like a new girl and I am now healthy. I hope all young girls will get relief as I have. I never felt better in my life."—Miss BERTHA A. FALGOUT, Box 116, Sterling, Conn.

Massena, N. Y.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I highly recommend it. Russia Beats Worst Vodka. Petrograd, Oct. 1.—P. Bark, minister of finance, yesterday received an order to the effect that the prohibition of the sale of vodka shall be continued indefinitely after the end of the war.

This order is based principally on the tremendously improved condition of the country since the emperor issued the edict prohibiting traffic in this liquor.

Visitors arriving from Southern Russia say there is a change in the region that the country is hardly recognizable. Peasants who before the war had fallen into hopeless indolence and depravity already have emerged into self-respecting citizens.

The effect on character is already visible in neatly brushed clothes, instead of the former ragged and slovenly attire. Hats which formerly were dilapidated and allowed to go without repairs are now kept in first-class condition.

The towns have become more orderly and the peasants indulge in wholesome amusements. These people now save 55 per cent of their earnings which formerly was spent for drink, and they have increased their earning capacity through sobriety. This extra money is now devoted to the necessities and comforts of life.

This startling regeneration of the peasantry, in the opinion of the Russian authorities, is likely to have an important effect on the social and economic condition of all Russia.

A change in the large cities is also noticeable. Liquor still is sold in first class cafes, but these are practically empty. The Nevsky Prospect, once famous for its gay midnight life, is now quiet, without a sign of revelry.

Why Not Publish It? When you want a fact to become generally known, the right way is to publish it. Mrs. Joseph Kallans, Peru, Ind., was troubled with belching, sour stomach and frequent headaches. She writes, "I feel it my duty to tell to others what Chamberlain's Tablets have done for me. They have helped my digestion and regulated my bowels. Since using them I have been entirely well." For sale by all dealers.
